

Carnegie Mellon Summer School in Logic and Formal Epistemology

For 2006, the Department of Philosophy at Carnegie Mellon University announces a summer school in logic and formal epistemology for undergraduates in philosophy, mathematics, computer science, linguistics, and other sciences. The goals of the program are to:

- introduce promising students to cross-disciplinary research early in their careers,
- forge lasting links between the various disciplines.

This year's topics are:

Causal Statistical Inference

Monday, June 12 to Friday, June 16

Instructor: David Danks

Foundations of Computability

Monday, June 19 to Friday, June 23

Instructor: Wilfried Sieg

Philosophical Logic

Monday, June 26 to Friday, June 30

Instructor: Horacio Arlo-Costa

The summer school will be held from Monday, June 12 to Friday, June 30, 2006 on the Carnegie Mellon campus. Further information and instructions for applying can be found at:
